No. 321 Chestnut St.

An Act,

Relating to The Jewish Foster Home of the City of Philadelphia, giving to the Managers the guardianship of certain children, and power to bind them out as apprentices.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in general Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the managers of the Jewish Foster Home of the City of Philadelphia shall have the guardianship of the children placed under their care and management during their minority ; and the said managers shall have power and authority, whenever, in their opinion, they may deem proper, to bind the said children, as apprentices, during their minority, to such persons, and at such places, whether within or outside of this Commonwealth, and to learn such trades and employment as, in the judgment of the said managers, will be most conducive to the benefit and advantage of the said children : Provided, that such charge and power to bind out given to said managers, shall not, in the cases of females, extend beyond the age of eighteen years : Provided, further, that in the indentures of said binding out, the said managers shall provide that said minors shall receive not less than three months' schooling in each and every year, during the term of said indentures.

JAMES R. KELLEY,

Speaker of the House of Representatives.

DAVID FLEMING,

Speaker of the Senate.

Approved this Twelfth day of March, One thousand eight hundred and sixty-six.

A. G. CURTIN.

DECREE BY THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

BE IT REMEMBERED, that at a Court of Common Pleas held at Philadelphia, on the second day of September, 1874, the foregoing petition and instrument of writing was presented to the Court on behalf of the Corporation therein named, in order that the alterations and amendments therein set forth might be approved, and that the same might be deemed and taken to be part of the charter of the said Corporation.

Whereupon, on motion of Edward H. Weil, Esq., the Court ordered that said petition and instrument of writing be filed, and that publication of notice of said application be made according to law.

And now, this twenty-first day of September, 1874, due proof having been exhibited of such publication, and that notice of the application for the amendment of the name, style and title of the Corporation has been given to the Auditor General of the Commonwealth, the Court having examined the said instrument of writing, and being of opinion that the alterations and amendments are lawful and beneficial, and do not conflict with the constitution and law, do direct and decree that the alterations and amendments therein contained, shall be deemed and taken to be part of the charter of the said Corporation, and that the said instrument of writing be recorded according to law.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the said Court, the twenty-first day of September, 1874.

JAMES R. LUDLOW,

Judge.

Recorded in the office for Recording Deeds, &c., in and for the City and County of Philadelphia, in Charter Book F. T. W., No. 1., page 470, &c.

Preamble.

Deeply impressed with the necessity of providing a home for destitute and unprotected children of Jewish parentage, the ladies of the several congregations of Philadelphia have associated to form an institution denominated THE JEWISH FOSTER HOME, wherein orphans, or the children of indigent Israelites may be rescued from the evils of ignorance and vice, comfortably provided for, instructed in moral and religious duties, and thus prepared to become useful members of the community. For the government of this Society the original Constitution was adopted ; and

WHEREAS, Since the adoption of the Constitution of this Society, it has been found expedient to make alterations and amendments thereto, in order to more fully carry out the objects for which the Society was formed and to enlarge its sphere of usefulness ; it is now

Resolved, According to the provisions of the existing Constitution, that the following Constitution, in which are incorporated the desired alterations and amendments, be and the same is hereby declared to be the Constitution, upon its approval according to law.

Constitution.

ARTICLE I.

NAME.

The name of this Society shall be THE JEWISH FOSTER HOME AND ORPHAN ASYLUM OF PHILADELPHIA.

ARTICLE II.

MEMBERSHIP.

Section 1. Any citizen of Pennsylvania, who shall pay an annual contribution of Five dollars in advance, shall be a member; and this sum shall be charged annually thereafter, until a written resignation shall be tendered and accepted.

Section 2. Any member who shall pay the sum of One hundred dollars shall be a Life member, and subject to no further dues.

Section 3. Any citizen of Pennsylvania, who shall pay annually Twenty-five dollars, shall be a Patron of this Society, and may assume the privileges of membership, at any time, upon signing this Constitution.

ARTICLE III.

MEETINGS.

Section 1. The Annual Meeting of the Society shall be held on the last Sunday in April of each and every year unless it be a holyday, when it shall take place on the succeeding Sunday.

Section 2. The President may call Special Meetings of the Society whenever he may deem it expedient; and he shall do so upon the written request of ten members within two weeks after the presentation of such request.

Section 3. Thirty members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

ARTICLE IV.

OFFICERS.

Section 1. The officers of the Society shall be a President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary and twelve Managers, to be elected from the male members, who shall constitute the Board of Officers, and eighteen ladies who shall constitute the Associate Board, and shall be elected in the following manner: The President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary shall be elected annually for one year; and at the first election after the adoption of this Constitution, twelve Managers and eighteen members of the Associate Board shall be chosen, who shall divide themselves by lot at their first meeting after the election, into three equal classes, whose term of office shall be one, two and three years respectively; and at every subsequent election four Managers and six of the Associate Board shall be elected for three years.

Section 2. The first election for officers under this Constitution shall take place at a meeting of the members to be called within one month after its approval according to law, and every year thereafter at the annual meeting in April.

ARTICLE V.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS.

Section 1. The President shall preside at all meetings of the Society and Board of Officers; he shall sign all orders drawn on the Treasurer, duly authorized by the Board and countersigned by the Secretary; and shall have under his especial charge all title deeds, papers, books &c. of the Society, not especially entrusted to other officers.

Section 2. The Vice-President shall act as President in case of the absence of the President or his inability to serve.

Section 3. The Treasurer shall take charge of all moneys and securities belonging to the Society and shall keep a correct account of his transactions.

Section 4. The Secretary shall keep correct minutes of all the proceedings of the Society and Board, and shall perform such other duties appertaining to his office as the Society or Board may require.

Section 5. The Managers, in conjunction with the President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary, who shall constitute the Board of Officers, shall have full charge, control, direction and management of all the affairs of the Society and of the Home, and shall adopt and carry out all measures necessary to further the objects for which the Society was organized; and all investments of the funds belonging to this Society shall be made by their direction.

Section 6. The Associate Board of Ladies shall have the general supervision of the children in the Home; they shall assist the Board of Officers in the management of its internal affairs, and perform such other duties as shall be more particularly defined in the By-laws. They shall meet within one week after the annual election and organize by electing a chairman and Secretary from their number.

ARTICLE VI.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

The Board of Officers shall have power, if in their judgment they may deem proper, to establish an Industrial School for the purpose of instructing such children in the Home as may be selected, in the different branches of trade, of manufacture or of mechanical arts.

ARTICLE VII.

INVESTMENTS.

Section 1. The moneys derived from life memberships shall be invested and the income only shall be used; and all property, real or personal, given, bequeathed or devised to this Society for specified purposes, shall be held by the Society and be used according to and upon the trust specified or declared in the donation, grant, bequest or devise.

Section 2. All investments shall be in the corporate name of the Society and shall be designated by at least two-thirds of the Board of Officers; and no such investment shall be changed, assigned or altered except by the consent of a similar number. All transfers and sales of securities shall be signed by the President and Secretary, with the corporate seal of the Society affixed.

Section 3. The Treasurer shall, in his annual report, give a detailed statement of all such funds, stating the name and amount of each investment, the purpose for which it is held, and any other necessary particulars.

ARTICLE VIII.

AMENDMENTS.

The Constitution shall not be altered or amended, unless the proposition be made at an annual meeting and adopted at a subsequent special meeting, or at the next annual meeting, and by consent of two thirds of the members present at the meeting, and its approval according to law. The Secretary shall insert in the notices for the meeting that proposed alterations or amendments are to be acted upon.

By-Laws.

I.

RULES OF ORDER.

1. The President, or in his absence, the Vice-President, or in the absence of both, a member selected from those present, shall take the chair half an hour after the time appointed for the meeting.

2. A quorum being present, the minutes of the preceeding meeting shall be read.

3. Reports of officers or committees may be read, though, by leave, the same may be received at any later stage of the proceedings.

4. Communications addressed to the President or Society shall be read.

5. Unfinished business.

6. New business.

7. No motion shall be received unless seconded, and the mover, if required, shall commit it to writing, with his or her name attached thereto.

8. When a member shall desire to speak, he or she shall rise and respectfully address the chair; should more than one rise at the same time, the presiding officer shall determine who is entitled to the floor, and from the decision in this case there shall be no appeal.

9. No member shall speak more than twice, and at no time longer than fifteen minutes, on any one subject, unless by permission of the Society or Board, which shall be decided without debate.

10. Any member may call for a division of the question when the sense will admit of it.

11. The yeas and nays shall be called at the request of six members of the Society, or if at a Board meeting, of two members of the Board.

12. When a blank is to be filled, and different sums, numbers or times shall be proposed, the question shall first be taken on the highest sum or number, and the longest and latest time.

13. Motions for reconsideration must be made and seconded by members who voted with the majority; and no reconsideration shall take place after the meeting next following that in which the business may have been finally acted upon.

14. The member first named on a committee shall be its chairman and make report of its proceedings, unless otherwise ordered.

15. All reports shall be made in writing, and those of committees shall be signed by a majority of such committee; provided, however, the minority shall in all cases be permitted to present their views in writing

16. All votes shall be given viva voce, unless a division be called for; and all elections of officers shall be by written or printed ballots.

17. At special meetings of the Society no business shall be transacted except that for which the meeting was convened.

18. No member shall leave the meeting, when organized, without permission from the chair.

19. The order of business may be suspended at any meeting by a vote of three-fourths of the members present.

II.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Section 1. Nominations for the various offices to be filled shall be made immediately after the reading of the minutes on the day of election, and the names to be voted for shall be on one printed or written ticket.

Section 2. The election for officers shall be conducted in the following manner: The President shall, previous to the day of election, appoint three tellers, who shall cause polls to be opened for such election on the day of the annual meeting and at the place appointed for such meeting, for one hour after being called to order.

The Secretary shall furnish the tellers with a correct list of members not in arrears, and the vote of no other person shall be received. As soon as the polls shall be closed, the tellers shall proceed to count the votes, and the persons having the highest number of votes cast for the respective offices shall be declared elected.

III.

THE PRESIDENT.

Section 1. The President shall appoint all committees not otherwise provided for.

Section 2. He may call special meetings of the Board or of the Society whenever he may deem it expedient, and shall do so upon the written request of five members of the Board or ten members of the Society; and the request shall state the object of such proposed meeting.

Section 3. He may vote at the meetings of the Society on the following subjects, viz.: At the election of officers, on alterations of the Constitution or By-laws, and upon the expulsion of a member, but in no other case, except when the meeting shall be equally divided, when he shall have the casting vote.

Section 4. He shall visit the Home at least once a week.

Section 5. He shall sign all orders on the Treasurer, and Section 6. He shall perform such other duties appertaining to his office as shall be required by the Board or Society, and shall be paid such compensation for his services as the Board may determine from time to time.

Section 7. He shall deliver to his successor in office all books and papers in his possession belonging to the Society, within ten days after the expiration of his term of office.

VII.

THE BOARD OF OFFICERS.

Section 1. The Board of Officers shall enter upon their duties immediately after the adjournment of the meeting at which they shall be elected, and shall continue in office until their successors are chosen.

Section 2. They shall hold stated meetings in the first week of every month.

Section 3. They shall fix the salaries of all paid officers or employees.

Section 4. They shall have the power to fill all vacancies in the Board until the next annual election.

Section 5. The seat of any officer shall be declared vacant who shall be absent at three successive stated meetings of the Board, without satisfactory excuse.

Section 6. In case of the absence or inability to act of both the President and Vice-President, the Board shall elect a President pro tem.

Section 7. Seven members of the Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Section 8. The Board of Officers shall have power to appoint such executive officers of the Home as they may deem expedient, and to make rules and regulations defining their duties and responsibilities.

Section 9. The Board of Officers, at their first meeting after each annual election, shall, by ballot, elect three of their number and two of the Associate Board of Ladies, who, in conjunction with the President and Treasurer, shall be an Executive Committee for one year.

Section 10. They may, at the same meeting, elect a clerk, who shall perform such of the duties of the Secretary and receive such compensation as may from time to time be determined by the Board.

Section 11. They may also, if found necessary, elect an attending Physician, for the care of any sick or disabled children.

Section 12. Whenever the Board shall deem it expedient to establish an Industrial School, in conformity with the Constitution, they shall have power to make all needful rules and regulations for carrying this object into effect.

Section 13. They shall have the power to establish such rules and regulations for the good government of the Home as they may deem expedient, together with such sanitary laws and restrictions for admission of visitors as may be found necessary, and such rules must receive the assent of two-thirds of their numbers; and no rule shall be changed, altered or abolished except by the consent of a like vote.

VIII.

COMMITTEES.

The President shall appoint, as soon as the Board shall be organized, the following standing committees for the year :

a. Monthly Visiting Committees, to consist of three members of the Board and three of the Associate Board of Ladies.

b. Committee on Education and Discipline, to consist of three of the Board and two of the Associate Board.

shall affix his name and seal of the Society to all official documents requiring them.

Section 6. He shall deliver to his successor in office, within ten days after the expiration of his term, all title deeds, books, papers and other property in his possession belonging to the Society.

IV.

THE VICE-PRESIDENT.

In the absence of the President the Vice-President shall perform all the duties required of the President, and shall be entitled to the same privileges.

V.

THE TREASURER.

Section 1. The Treasurer shall give such security for the faithful discharge of his duties as the Board of Officers may approve; and the bonds, executed according to their decision shall be deposited with the President; provided, that no member of the Board of Officers shall be accepted as such security.

Section 2. He shall receive all moneys belonging to this Society, and pay all orders passed by the Board and signed by the President and Secretary.

Section 3. He shall deposit all moneys in his hands in such place as may be directed by the Board of Officers, in the name and to the credit of "The Jewish Foster Home and Orphan Asylum, of Philadelphia."

Section 4. He shall make investments when so directed by the Board of Officers, but no investments shall be made in any other name than that of the Society.

Section 5. He shall keep all the certificates of loan, or any other securities in his possession, in a tin box, with the name of the Society thereon, and shall deposit it in such place of safety as may be directed by the Board of Officers. Whenever called upon by the Board he shall exhibit to them any of the securities.

Section 6. He shall render monthly reports to the Board of Officers. He shall furnish a detailed statement of all receipts and expenditures at the annual meeting of the Society, as well as a complete list of investments, in accordance with Article 7th of the Constitution, after first having had his accounts audited by a committee of two of the Board.

Section 7. Within ten days after the expiration of his term of office, he shall transfer to his successor all moneys, securities, books and other property in his custody, belonging to the Society.

VI.

THE SECRETARY.

Section 1. The Secretary shall keep a roll of the members, shall issue notices of all stated and special meetings of the Board and Society, specifying the time and place of assembling, and shall cause the same to be delivered at least forty-eight hours before the time of a special meeting of the Society and three days before a stated meeting.

Section 2. He shall be present at all meetings of the Board and Society, and keep a correct record of all proceedings.

Section 3. He shall open a regular set of books and keep a correct account with all the members of the Society.

Section 4. He shall make out all bills for dues and hand them to the collector appointed by the Board, taking a receipt for the same.

Section 5. He shall (in a book provided for that purpose,) draw all orders for the payment of money authorized by the Board, and attest the same with his signature.

COMMITTEE ON INDENTURING.

Section 1. It shall be the duty of this committee to procure suitable places for the children when they shall arrive at a proper age, attend to their indenturing, and report their action to the next stated meeting of the Board.

Section 2. All articles of indenture shall be signed by the President, Vice-President or President pro tem., and by the party taking the child.

COMMITTEE ON INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

This committee shall organize and superintend an industrial school, when required by and under the direction of the Board of Officers; and they shall adopt, with the sanction of the Board, such rules and regulations for the proper government of this department as may be required from time to time.

IX.

COLLECTOR.

Section 1. The Board of Officers shall elect a suitable person to collect all bills due to the Society for membership or otherwise, and they shall fix the amount of compensation for his services.

Section 2. He shall give such security for the faithful performance of his duties as they may deem sufficient, but no member of the Board shall be accepted as security.

THE SUPERINTENDENT.

Section 1. The Superintendent shall have the general charge of the Home and of all the premises, and see that the regulations of the Board and the directions of the Executive and other committees are carried into effect.

Section 2. He shall diligently and carefully attend to the diet and health of the children ; shall supervise their education and attend to their moral training ; shall see that they are as far as practicable employed in some domestic or other useful labor, and shall allow them such recreation as will conduce to their health and pleasure.

Section 3. He shall assemble the children in a suitable room, and commence and close each day with family worship ; the prayers to be alternately in Hebrew and English and Hebrew and German. He shall be present while the children are taking their meals and see that a blessing is given before and thanks returned after meals.

Section 4. The Superintendent shall keep in a book provided for that purpose, a regular account of all moneys received and disbursed by him on account of the Home, and also a record of all such contracts as he may have been authorized by the Executive committee to make, which book with the vouchers, shall be laid before the committee every month for examination.

Section 5. He shall keep a record of admissions into, discharges from and deaths in the Home, with the names and residences of the nearest relatives of the child, and with any other necessary information appertaining to the case ; and he shall make monthly reports to the Board, and annually to the Society.

Section 6. He shall engage and discharge all male servants, subject to such orders as the Executive committee may think proper to give ; and no employee shall leave the premises without his permission. He shall submit monthly to the Board a census of all persons employed on the premises, their rate of wages, and of all persons other than the children residing in the building. Servants employed in the Home shall be subject to the orders of the Superintendent and Matron.

Section 7. He shall not permit any person whatever, ex-

c. Committee on Admission and Dismissal, to consist of four members of the Board and three of the Associate Board.

d. Committee on Indenturing, to consist of three members of the Board and two of the Associate Board.

e. Committee on Industrial School to consist of three members of the Board and two of the Associate Board.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Executive Committee shall have special management of the Home, and the property and grounds appertaining thereto. They shall have power to make any necessary repairs at once, but all permanent improvements shall first receive the sanction of the Board. They shall make and supervise all purchases, under the direction and control of the Board, and shall enforce all rules and regulations. They shall examine and approve all bills against the Society before being acted upon by the Board. They shall have power to suspend any executive officer or other employee of the Home until the next meeting of the Board, when they shall report their action to the Board. They shall meet at least twice in every month at the Home, and report their proceedings at every stated meeting of the Board.

MONTHLY VISITING COMMITTEES.

The Associate Board of Ladies shall be divided into monthly committees, consisting of three of their number, who shall, in conjunction with the monthly committees of the Board of Officers, visit the Home at least once in each month. They shall see that the children are kept in a cleanly condition; that they are properly educated; that they are provided with sufficient and healthy food; that the wardrobe is always supplied with proper clothing and all the rules and regulations made by the Board of Officers are strictly enforced. They shall prepare and hand to the chairman of the Executive committee at least once in every month a list of all necessary supplies, clothing or furniture required for the use of the Home. They shall report any violation of the laws, rules and regulations to the Board of Officers or the Executive committee at their first meeting thereafter.

COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION AND DISCIPLINE.

This committee shall attend particularly to the business of the school, examine into the progress of the children, reward those who are deserving, and report quarterly to the Board.

COMMITTEE ON ADMISSION AND DISMISSAL.

Section 1. All applications for admission shall be referred to this committee. They shall report to the Board every application for admission to the Home, at the next stated meeting after the same shall have been received, together with all the circumstances of the applicant; Provided, however, that in urgent cases the committee shall have power to admit until the next meeting of the Board.

Section 2. This committee shall keep a book of Registry, provided for that purpose, stating the name, age and birth-place of every child received, the nearest connections of the child and their residences, the date of admission and of discharge, and if indentured, when and to whom, and the deaths occurring.

Section 3. They shall report monthly to the Board as to the population and condition of the Home.

Section 4. No child shall be dismissed, unless by a vote of the Board, except in cases of an aggravated nature, and only after due examination of the case has been made, when such dismissal must receive the sanction of a majority of the members of the committee in writing, who shall report their action in such cases to the next meeting of the Board.

cepting the proper officers and servants of the Home and the members of his own family, to reside or board in the house, without express permission of the Executive committee.

Section 8. On the decease of a child, he shall immediately notify the President, and cause the name of the child and time of the death to be entered in the register, and shall place the body at the disposal of the relatives or friends of the deceased for interment. Should the deceased be without relatives or friends he shall see to the proper burial under the directions of the President.

Section 9. The immediate relatives of a child who live in the city of Philadelphia, shall be notified of his or her decease in the Home ; in case there are no known relatives in the city of Philadelphia, he shall send a certificate of death to the proper authorities of the place of birth or last residence.

Section 10. He shall prepare and present to the Board an inventory of all articles belonging to the Home by the first of April and October of each year, or sooner, if directed by the Executive committee.

(Until a Superintendent is appointed the duties devolving upon that office shall be performed by the Matron.)

XI.

THE MATRON.

Section 1. The Matron shall have general charge and supervision of all domestic arrangements of the institution ; she shall see that cleanliness, order and propriety are uniformly maintained in it, and for that purpose shall engage and discharge the female servants and help, subject to such orders as the Executive committee may give. All articles requisite for and belonging to the Home shall be kept under her care.

Section 2. She shall have a maternal regard for the health and physical welfare of all the inmates of the Home.

Section 3. She shall see that proper economy is used in all departments and that the inmates are provided with sufficient and wholesome food, and shall assist the Superintendent in enforcing all laws, rules and regulations.

Section 4. She shall not leave the Home during the absence of the Superintendent, nor in any case without first reporting her wish to that officer, and during his absence she shall have charge of the Home.

Section 5. She shall be present at the meeting of the children with their relatives at the Home.

Section 6. She shall designate the larger girls to do housework, so that they may become acquainted with those duties.

Section 7. She shall see that the clothes of the Superintendent and employees are properly washed and cared for.

Section 8. She shall take particular care that no food of any kind, or any article is given to the children by visitors or others, without first passing through her hands.

Section 9. She shall, previous to retiring for the night, visit every dormitory and see that the children are properly cared for, and that all lights and fires in the house are in proper condition. Should any children require her special attendance, she shall visit them during the night and observe their condition and situation.

Section 10. The matron shall examine all trunks, valises and other packages brought into the Home by or for any child, and she shall exclude therefrom beds, bedding, bed clothes and all such other goods or articles as may be unclean or otherwise prejudicial to health.

Section 11. She shall see that the children rise and are properly dressed in season for family worship.

Section 12. She shall visit every part of the house at least once a day.

XII.

OF ARREARS.

No member in arrears for more than one year shall be allowed to vote or hold office, provided such person shall have been duly notified of his or her indebtedness.

XIII.

The culinary and dietary arrangements of the house shall be in accordance with Jewish laws.

XIV.

AMENDMENTS.

No addition, alteration or amendment shall be made to these By-laws, unless the proposition be submitted at a meeting of the Society or of the Board, and shall be agreed to by two-thirds of the members present at a subsequent meeting of the Society. The purport of the proposed alteration, addition or amendment shall be inserted in the notices for the meeting for action upon the proposition.

ARTICLE VII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

PROPERTY AND INVESTMENTS.

Section 1. This Society shall have power and capacity to hold, take, acquire and receive real and personal estate by gift, bequest, devise or purchase, and to sell and convey in fee simple or otherwise, or to mortgage any part, or all the real estate now held or which may at any time hereafter be held by the Society, but the aggregate of the clear annual value of the real and personal estate shall not exceed the limit fixed by law.
